Part B – Your Obligations

1. Compliance with laws and regulations

You should be aware of, and comply with, your duties and obligations under all applicable laws and regulations relating to your work.

We encourage you to:

- actively understand the laws that affect or relate to SG Fleet’s operations;
- undertake or attend training required by SG Fleet to maintain your knowledge of the laws and regulations, as well as to increase your awareness of relevant legal and industry developments. In some cases, including with respect to Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing, you are required to undertake this training to enable SG Fleet to comply with its legal obligations; and
- interpret the law in a way that reinforces SG Fleet’s reputation for integrity.

If you have a question as to whether particular laws apply or how they may be interpreted, please contact SG Fleet’s Legal Team.

2. Fair trading and dealing

SG Fleet aims to maintain a high standard of ethical behaviour in conducting business and to behave with integrity in all dealings with customers, shareholders, government, employees, suppliers and the community.

When dealing with others, you must:

- perform your duties in a professional manner;
- behave respectfully towards colleagues and stakeholders both internally and externally;
- act with the utmost integrity, honesty and objectivity; and
- strive at all times to enhance SG Fleet’s reputation and performance.

You are encouraged to familiarise yourself with the legal requirements applying to fair trading and dealing, and to undertake training or attend seminars to develop and maintain your knowledge so that you can act in accordance with those requirements.

If you have a question or wish to report a breach of fair dealing requirements, please contact SG Fleet's Legal or People & Culture team as appropriate.

3. Conflicts of interest

You are responsible for notifying SG Fleet of any conflicts of interest (actual or potential). If you are concerned that you may have a conflict of interest you should disclose that interest and discuss the matter with your Manager or People & Culture.

3.1. What is a conflict of interest?

A conflict of interest exists where loyalties are divided.

You may have a conflict of interest if, in the course of your employment or engagement with SG Fleet:

- any of your decisions lead to an improper gain or benefit to you or your associate; or
- your personal interests, the interests of an associate, or relative, or obligation to some other person or entity, conflict with your obligation to SG Fleet.

The following are some common examples that illustrate actual or apparent conflicts of interest that you must avoid. The examples are intended to be a guide only and are not exhaustive.

3.2. Improper personal benefits

Conflicts of interest can arise when you or a member of your family receive improper personal benefits as a result of your position. You and your relatives should not give unreasonable gifts to, or receive unreasonable gifts from, SG Fleet's customers or suppliers or others with whom SG Fleet interacts.

We encourage you not to accept a gift (of any kind or value) in circumstances where your business judgment might appear to have been compromised, or where you or SG Fleet would be embarrassed if the gift was made public.

Read and become familiar with SG Fleet's detailed Anti-Bribery and Corruption Policy. If you are in doubt as to the appropriateness of a gift, please check with People & Culture.

3.3. Financial interests in other businesses

You should avoid having a significant ownership interest or personal financial interest in any other enterprise if that interest compromises or appears to compromise your loyalty to SG Fleet.

You must disclose via Protecht all personal financial interests that you or members of your family have in organisations that have established, or are attempting to establish, a business relationship with SG Fleet or that compete with SG Fleet.

Personal financial interests include, among other things, interests resulting from the following relationships:

- officer, director, employee or independent contractor;
- ownership of shares or other equity interest;
- debtor or creditor (other than in respect of personal financing arrangements with a recognised financial institution, such as mortgages); or
- lessee or lessor.

Ownership of less than one percent of the common or ordinary shares in an entity is not normally considered a conflict.

If you have any doubt about personal financial interests, please contact People & Culture.

3.4. Corporate opportunities

You must not take advantage of property, information, or other opportunities arising from your position in SG Fleet.

For example, if you learn of a business or investment opportunity through the use of corporate property or information or your position within SG Fleet, you should only participate in the business or make the investment with written approval from the Company Secretary or General Counsel. As a general principle, you should only participate in a joint venture, partnership or other business arrangement with third parties with written approval from the Company Secretary or General Counsel.

3.5. Conflict of interest arising from a personal relationship

Employees who have the responsibility for or authority to affect the careers or employment of other employees should perform their functions free from any conflict of interest arising from a personal relationship.

For example, a conflict of interest will arise from a personal relationship if you have a family, business or personal relationship (including a personal financial interest, sharing living quarters or a romantic relationship) with any other employee within SG Fleet and that relationship causes, or might reasonably be anticipated to cause, an inability on your part or their part to perform responsibilities objectively and impartially as far as the other party to the relationship is concerned.

You must disclose any conflict of interest arising from a personal relationship to People & Culture. Such disclosures will be treated confidentially.

3.6. Outside memberships, directorships, employment and public office

SG Fleet supports involvement of its employees in community activities and professional organisations. However, outside employment or activity must not conflict with an employee's ability to properly perform their work for SG Fleet, nor create a conflict (or the appearance of a conflict) of interest.

Before accepting outside employment or a position on the board of directors of another company or non-profit organisation, you must carefully evaluate whether the position could cause, or appear to cause, a conflict of interest. If there is any question, please contact either the Company Secretary or General Counsel.

You must also obtain prior written consent from the Company Secretary or General Counsel where the proposed employment or position relates to an outside organisation that has or seeks to have a business relationship with SG Fleet or competes with services provided by SG Fleet. In the case of the Directors of the Board of SG Fleet, each Director must obtain approval from the Chairman of the Board prior to accepting a position on the board of directors of another company or not-for-profit organisation.

You may accept public office or serve on a public body in your individual private capacity (but not as a representative of SG Fleet) by obtaining prior written consent from the General Counsel. If such public office would require time away from work, you must comply with SG Fleet policies regarding leave of absence and absenteeism.

3.7. Use of SG Fleet's name

It is Company policy to make available to all employees any discounts with suppliers or other businesses that may be passed on to employees. However, you may not use SG Fleet's name or purchasing power to obtain personal discounts or rebates unless the discounts or rebates are made available to all employees.

4. Improper use or theft of Company property, assets and email

We are committed to protecting customer, business partner and employee data, together with any SG Fleet business data with the highest standards of security by compliance with our applicable policies, our security and privacy standards and with applicable security and privacy laws and regulations.

You are responsible for protecting any SG Fleet property and assets that are under your control and you should safeguard them from loss, theft and unauthorised use.

Company property and assets include, but are not limited to, cash, securities, business plans, customer/third party information, intellectual property (including computer programs, software, models and other items), confidential information, office equipment/systems and supplies.

You must not:

- use Company assets for any unlawful purpose or unauthorised personal benefit;
- remove Company property and documents from official premises without a good and proper reason. If required to be removed, they should be stored in a secure manner and covered by appropriate insurances; and

- make improper disclosure, including inadvertent or careless disclosure, of competitive business strategies and plans, special methods of operation and other information that is of competitive value to SG Fleet. If you are unsure whether information is of a confidential nature, seek advice from your General Manager before disclosure.

As set out in SG Fleet's Acceptable Use Policy and Information Security Policies Summary, you are encouraged to use common sense and observe standards of good taste regarding content and language when creating documents that may be retained by SG Fleet or a third party. SG Fleet electronic communications systems should not be used to access or post material that violates SG Fleet policies or any laws or regulations. Personal non-business use of SG Fleet's electronic communications systems must also be consistent with the Acceptable Use Policy and the policies enlisted in the Information Security Policies Summary. Ensure that you are aware of the requirements of and act in accordance with the Acceptable Use Policy and Information Security Policies.

5. Privacy

SG Fleet respects your privacy and the privacy of others.

You should familiarise yourself with, and comply with:

- the privacy laws applicable to your jurisdiction;
- the SG Fleet Group Personal Data Protection Policy; and
- SG Fleet's privacy policies, which detail the appropriate use of personal information and explain how SG Fleet deals with personal information.

If you have any questions in relation to privacy, please contact SG Fleet's Legal Team.

If you become aware, or suspect, that a breach of privacy has occurred, you must immediately alert your line manager in the first instance and follow the processes set out in SG Fleet's Data Breach Response Procedure, which can be found on the intranet.

6. Public communications and disclosures

You are responsible for the integrity of the information, reports and records under your control and you are expected to exercise the highest standard of care in preparing materials for public communications.

Those documents and materials should:

- comply with any applicable legal requirements;
- fairly and accurately reflect the transactions or occurrences to which they relate;
- not contain any false or intentionally misleading information, nor intentionally misclassify information; and
- be in reasonable detail and recorded in the proper account and in the proper accounting period.

Media statements and official announcements may only be made by persons authorised under the Continuous Disclosure Policy and Attachment 3 of the Continuous Disclosure Policy, the Media Relations Policy. If you receive a request for information and you are not authorised to respond to the enquiry, refer the request to the Corporate Services & Investor Relations Executive. Unless the CEO has given prior written consent, SG Fleet employees and associated parties must not participate in public forum discussions (including internet-based forums) where the subject matter is related to SG Fleet, its competitors or the industry in which SG Fleet operates.

SG Fleet has adopted the Continuous Disclosure Policy as a means of ensuring compliance with its disclosure and communication obligations under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) and the ASX Listing Rules. The aim of the Continuous Disclosure Policy is to keep the market fully aware of information that may have a material effect on the price or value of SG Fleet's securities, and to correct any material mistake or misinformation in the market.

Ensure that you are aware of the requirements of the Continuous Disclosure Policy and, if it applies to you, you must act in accordance with the policy.

8.3. Politics

You may voluntarily participate in the political process as an individual. We ask that you do not engage in actions that could cause someone to believe that your actions reflect the views or position of SG Fleet.

It is against SG Fleet policy to use corporate funds for political purposes. This policy does not prohibit:

- payments of salaries and expenses of employees whose duties may include communication with government officials;
- membership of, or involvement in the activities of, associations (for example industry associations) that engage in lobbying or similar activities; or
- political activity by any employee in his or her individual, private capacity. However, to eliminate any appearance of coercion in such political activities, it is against SG Fleet policy for any manager or team leader to solicit funds from a subordinate for political purposes.
